Gisimba memorial centre as it stands today is a community centre that has been in existence since 1990, focusing on advancing the wellbeing of children.

We also note that their mission dates back 75 years, having begun this kind of work in Huye.

The centre was set up in memory of the “Gisimba” family, remembered for their enduring humanitarian contribution to Rwanda.

The centre was set up in memory of the “Gisimba” family, remembered for their enduring humanitarian contribution to Rwanda.

The centre has since established itself at the frontline of fighting for the rights of children in Rwanda in addition to providing an environment that deals with specific cases of trauma.

Their work is based around after-school programs directed at underprivileged children.

Through a holistic, trauma-aware approach, “Gisimba” provides community education that focuses on arts-based enrichment, family education and therapy.
